A Poem was written in honor of Sandi's induction: By Pam Wolf

There's a woman named Sandi Butcher that is oh so dear.
When it comes to the sport of bowling, she's always right here.
Her expertise is with the youth bowlers you see.
When it comes to her kids right there, she will be.

Her guidance and dedication we appreciate so much.
Because of the many young and adult lives she's touched
When it comes to being praised or recognized she wants none
But excuse me we already know she's #1

If there is a person that has helped bowlers to succeed
We all know it's Sandi with her hugs, smiles and her many good deeds.
Congratulations to a lady that deserves to be in our Hall of Fame.
Without you our lives would have never been the same
